Obituary

E. Bowie Adams, 83, of St. Simons Island died Tuesday at his son's home on St. Simons Island.

A graveside service will be held at 1 p.m. Friday in Oglethorpe Memorial Gardens with the Rev. Robert Brearley officiating. A memorial service will follow at 2 p.m. at St. Simons Presbyterian Church.

The family suggests those wishing to make memorial contributions to St. Simons Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are two sons and their wives, Richard A. "Butch" Adams and Susan K. Adams of Atlanta, and Robert W. "Tuffy" Adams and Gloria "GeeGee" Adams of St. Simons Island; three grandchildren, Robert W. "Robby" Adams Jr. of Gainesville, and Catherine D. Adams and Elizabeth K. Adams, both of Atlanta; a great-grandson, a niece and a nephew.

Mr. Adams was a native of Atlanta and had been a resident of St. Simons Island for 18 years. He was a graduate of the Georgia Institute of Technology and was president of Adams, Willis & Hall Inc. and Jackbilt Homes Inc. He was a former member of the Atlanta and East Lake Country Clubs and Sea Palms Country Club. He was a member of St. Simons Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Adams served as a captain in the U.S. Army Air Corps during World War II. He enjoyed golf.

Edo Miller and Sons Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.
